THE TALENT AND THE BOOKIES QUIT EVEN AT GRAVESEND

Yorkville Belle Defeats Judge Morrow and Chesapeake Results of the Other Contests_Base-Ball.

HE talent picked the first three races and bookmakers raked in the next three, winning back about The weather and track were almost perfect, and a good card was offered. The sport opened with a sweepstakes for two-year-olds, and El Teigrafo was morrigage on the thought to have a mortgage on the money. He justified the opinion of his bloodless one. Everybody plunged on Reckon in the second race.

The Morris mare made the pace all the way around, but the field made a terrific sprint in the stretch and the whole bunch finished scarcely more than heads apart. Biltzen got to Reckon's neck as they passed the wire, taking the place by the same margin from Stockton. There was another great plunge on Kentigerna in the Clover stakes. She got off poorly, threaded her way through the bunch and won in a big gallop.

The fourth race, the Gazelle stakes, was thought to be a good thing for Miss Maud, and she was played heavily. Naptha, however, was too much for her, and won easily by two lengths. Poor Jonathan, at 7 to 1, took the fifth race.

The final event brought together Yorkville Belle, Judge Morrow and Chesa-peake in a three-quarter-mile dash. Mor-row carried the talents' money, but the Belle beat him quite handliy, Summary: Following are the results: First race, five furlongs—El Telegrafo
